

Input the two matrices, matrix size and number of cores

Re-arrange the input matrices

Store the re-arranged matrices, matrix size, number of cores in the Data Memory

Initialization of operation in the cores

Completion of the matrix multiplication process

Write the resultant matrix stored in the Data Memory to a text file

Re-arrange the resultant matrix, compare with the expected output matrix and display the latency.